Bubble GUM

The latest addition to Bubble London – Bubble G.U.M.

Following its debut last season, this successful new area of the show dedicated to niche brands, includes The Tiny Universe, offering unique, special occasionwear such as babygros that look like dress suits and tuxedos. K for Keeps is introducing shorts, trousers and a summer dress in English silks and Irish linens, and Norwegian childrenswear label Mummymoon for newborn to four years is launching to the UK at the show with a contemporary collection in subtle colourways. Eazy-Teez is presenting new shirts made from organic cotton, with extra details such as flag labels and stitching, and the return of popular styles in new colours. Thai childrenswear brand Bluenose Monster, available for six months to eight years, offers imaginative and creative designs, with inspiration for s/s coming from Pop Art, comic art and patchworks. Created by professional musicians, Music For Baby offers CD music collections to support babies' development. The company has also recently launched a Music For Baby App for the iPhone, iPod Touch and iPad. Pixie and Punk provides gift packs comprising a T-shirt and a cotton bag with a character on it such as a bear and crocodile, with photo story books starring the same characters also available. Designed and produced in the UK, Beau Loves' collection includes clothing, accessories and a unisex capsule collection. Baccha Party for boys and girls aged newborn to 12 years has a wide range of product on offer including clothing, accessories such as bandanas, necklaces and totes, and interiors consisting of cushions, canvases, picture frames and trinket boxes.

Australian owned and designed, Sun Emporium offers a range of sun protection swimwear and apparel. The babies range includes sun protection sun suits suitable for swimming, UV sun shirts, sun hats and sun shorts in printed fabrics and motifs. The sun protective swimwear range for young children and teens features surf-inspired designs in bright colors and prints and includes protective sun shirts, sun shorts, UV sun suits and sun hats.
